Summuh Humus

Profile: SUMMUH ARTISAN HUMMUS

Summuh Hummus was launched in June of 2012 and has been a hit in Ohio Valley markets. This hummus-style dip is locally made, chef created, and organic. Chef and owner of Summuh Hummus, Ethan Snider, says he is particular to the ingredients, "We use regionally sourced organic beans, sea salt, extra virgin olive oil, as well as local fresh vegetables whenever possible. We're committed to preparing a quality product through growing relationships." Summuh Hummus is not only reliant on chickpeas as Snider adds, "You never had hummus like this." Sales show this is true: When Snider first started selling the dip it sold out quickly, and he's been making more ever since, becoming the "Ben and Jerry's" of hummus.
